CHAPTER 2

Science and Social Research: From Theory to Data and Back

Learning Objectives

1. Define science and describe its characteristics.

2. Distinguish between deductive and inductive logic.

3. Describe how deductive and inductive logic are used in research to move between theory and data.

4. Explain the possibilities and limits of scientific knowledge.